Fox River Radio League (aka FRRL)

Regardless if you're a NEW HAM Radio Operator, or you've been a seasoned HAM for years, if you are not a part of a local Amateur Radio Club in your community, you are missing out on a good portion of what Amateur Radio is all this about! When you join a local ham club, you become part of a ham community. Being involved in club meetings, events, and local activities are ways to meet new Ham friends, share knowledge, learn new things, ask questions, get assistance on projects and have some good Ham FUN!

FRRL has been serving the Fox River area communities since 1924. FRRL Monthly Meetings are held on the 2nd Tuesday of every Month. FRRL meetings are Open to the Public and anyone interested in the hobby of Amateur Radio is welcome to attend. Typically after a brief business meeting there is a monthly presentation held on various Amateur Radio topics of interest.
